

In the large and beautiful forest area Hurummarka, where birds build their nests and where a numerous of Red-listed species created their home, danger hangs in the air. The company called Chemring Nobel is working together with the Ministry of (so called) Defense to build Europe's largest explosives factory in Hurum. Not only will the forests, the fjord and the inhabitants suffer from this, the factory will be complicit in war and genocide.